Practice tip

The tune has a walking pulse — feel it as a steady 1/4-note step, not a swung lilt. The B section climb to A5 is where most beginners rush; deliberately slow that bar by a hair so the high note has room to bloom.

If you're playing this on a NAF, the missing F# isn't a defect — lean into the pentatonic version. Slow the tempo to ■=72 and let the long cadence notes ring; the tune holds up beautifully without the dorian colour.
