Practice tip

Hold the long notes — the dotted halves and whole notes — as long as your breath lasts. The tune is built around sustains, not motion. The high A5 (bar 18) is a full bar of held tonic; treat it as a deliberate exhale, not a "note."

The grace note at bar 21 is the only ornament in the tune. Play it late — slip into the A5 just barely before the beat, then let the A ring. That's the frost-breath.

If you run out of air on the high A, that's OK. Take a breath right
